ArtsKC teams up with the Royals for Arts Night at The K

Kansas City, MO (August 21, 2015) – On Saturday, September 5, ArtsKC and the Royals are teaming up to bring a little song, dance, and art to The K. The Royals will host interactive booths from area arts and lifestyle organizations from 4:30-6:00 pm in the Outfield Experience.

The evening will also feature a performance from “Antique Pop” duo and ArtsKC Fund grant recipients Victor & Penny as well as live art-making experiences from ArtsKC Fund grant recipient KC Chalk and Walk Festival and local graffiti artist and Artist, Inc. graduate Sike. The Youth Symphony of Kansas City will cap off the pre-game activities with their on-field performance of the “Star Spangled Banner” to start the game!

“Whether the Royals are winning or not on a particular day, we work very hard to make the experience at Kauffman Stadium a great one for our fans,” said Toby Cook, Royals Vice-President of Community Affairs & Publicity. “We’re basically in the entertainment business. We’re also committed to our community. Part of that responsibility is to help promote those things that make the Kansas City area a terrific place to live. And, for us, that means encouraging the support of the arts in Kansas City – arts that entertain, educate and touch lives.”

Arts and Royals enthusiasts are encouraged to root, root, root for the home team and support the arts in Kansas City! $5 of every ticket purchased at royals.com/arts will go directly to the ArtsKC Fund, to support artists, arts organizations, and arts programs throughout the KC region.
